Welcome to the September Edition of LINK

Autumn is on its way. Or perhaps it has been here for a while. Last July as I arrived at St Andrew's for the Sunday service I was greeted by a thick carpet of orange leaves covering the grounds. It has been a long, hot summer, which has affected more than my journey to work, particularly in the farming community, many of whom are facing diminished crops this harvest season, on top of those who have already lost thousands because of crop fires.

The church's celebration of Harvest is, we know, a giving of thanks to a God who provides what we need. It is He who brings the rains and the sun, and makes the plants grow. But years such as this one make us feel keenly our own inability to guarantee a harvest and our dependence on forces outside of ourselves. This reminds us that God's best aim for our lives is not primarily that we should live at ease day after day, thoughtlessly receiving his goodness to us. Rather that we should be trained in our appreciation for who our God is and what He does for us and trained in our commitment to care for one another in times of need.

So let's give thanks for all that God gives us this harvest, but above all for the way He has made himself known to us in His Son Jesus Christ, that we might know the peace of trusting Him, whatever the weather.

In Christ

Phil

The most critically acclaimed production of C.S. Lewis' masterpiece is back! The Screwtape Letters is a multi award winning satirical comedy that is now touring the UK for its 13th year. Nigel Forde's "sparkling script" and David Robinson's "impressive Screwtape" (The Stage) bring to life Lewis' classic book, which has sold millions of copies worldwide.

The story is set in Professor Screwtape's study in the timeless dominion of Hell. The play follows Screwtape's attempts to train his junior devils, including his protégé Wormwood, in the fine art of temptation. It remains faithful to the original text, characters and themes created by Lewis and holds three Edinburgh Fringe Sell-Out Show Awards.

Searchlight Theatre Company

It all began on Friday 2nd September 2011 in Perth, Australia as Searchlight Theatre Company made their debut performance. The Company had been founded by David Robinson and Michael Taylorson, with over 40 years performing experience between them. Anyone who loves theatre knows how exciting it can be. They know about the spine-tingling moments that can take place; how the air is charged; how an audience of total strangers can be brought together through shared emotion, tears or laughter. Theatre can make us experience powerful feelings and leave us shaken and changed. It can provoke debate, but it can also affirm beliefs and reinforce shared values.

Searchlight have a vision to create theatre that can share life-changing stories with audiences, making them laugh and cry, experiencing and sharing what it is to be human as well as experiencing God. From each of their nine visits to the Edinburgh Fringe, the Company has received at least one four star review.

Village Voices ended the term with a sing at the beach huts. It was a lovely time of celebration; we entertained ourselves and a few people who walked on the beach.

Great fun and will definitely be repeated !

What is the impact of Climate Change in the Horn of Africa?

4 years without rain have caused –

- food to be scarce
15-20 million people suffer from hunger,
1,000s have died of starvation
- water shortage
Forcing people to walk further for water,
The water they do find is often dirty and unsafe to drink, causing life-threatening disease
- death of livestock
which are relied upon for food and income, pushing people further into poverty.

Even when the rains do come, the ground is like concrete,
it cannot absorb the water, causing flash floods and further devastation.

Much of the solution to prevent such disasters lies with us – to no longer live in ways that are causing the climate to change.

Thoughts from the 'Tiptoe Triangle'

Rev'd Anne used to share her 'Thoughts' each month ... but since she retired the people at Tiptoe have not stopped thinking!
 Until Anne's replacement is appointed, we hope to be able to continue to include some 'thoughts' from Tiptoe each month.

How many times in the year do you celebrate or are aware of a new year beginning?

One we have all enjoyed/suffered from is the new school year that begins each September. That experience goes on through college and university and may mark the beginning of our career if we have had that privilege. I understand that apprentices also begin their training at the same time of year. It's a new year shared by our parents as they face the problem of shoes outgrown and uniform outworn.

There's the new year marked by each time we celebrate a birthday, a wedding anniversary or sadly begin a new year without the presence of a dearly loved one. Of course, there is also the New Year we celebrate every January and the UK fiscal year beginning in April. You may well think of other occasions.

September sees a new generation of children starting school, some with eager anticipation and some with trepidation. Those same feelings may accompany us in each of the new beginnings that I have mentioned. Re-reading the Psalms makes us aware that these feelings are experienced by all human beings. Our Saviour too experienced them in the garden of Gethsemane.

So as children, students, young adults and older ones too face new beginnings, let us pray that they may find the comfort and strength they need. When opportunity arises we may be able to help them grow in faith as they face fears and joys. As we face our own fears and joys we can know that each day can be a new beginning to walk in the way of Christ, guided by the Holy Spirit.

Prayer to God, our Foodbank

Father,

People are hungry. Some are hungry for food, and we ask that you will help us to help them by our compassion and generosity.

Thank you for foodbanks – forgive us that they are necessary. But even well-fed people are hungry; hungry for meaning in life.

Thank you that you have given us the ultimate Foodbank in the gift of Jesus, who is the Way, the Truth and the Life. Help us to walk His Way, to know Him as truth and to receive His Life and to be truly fed and satisfied.

If God should go on strike

It's a good thing that God above
Has never gone on strike
Because He wasn't treated fair
Or for things He didn't like.
If ever once he had sat down
And said: "That's it! I'm through.
I've had enough of those on earth
So this is what I'll do:

"I'll give my orders to the sun
To cut off your heat supply.
I'll command the moon to give no more light
And run your oceans dry.
"Then, just to make it really tough
And put the pressure on -
I'll turn off the air and oxygen
Till every breath is gone."

Do you know He'd be justified
If fairness were the game.
For no-one has been more abused
Or treated with disdain ...
Than God. And yet He carries on Supplying you and me
With all the favour of His grace
And everything is - for free!

Men say they want a better deal
And so on strike they go.
But what a deal we've given God
To whom everything we owe.
We don't care who we hurt or harm
To get the things we like.
But what a mess we'd all be in
If God should go on strike!

... at work in Ukraine

‘We’ll listen to the Bible as we garden’

An elderly couple in a village just north of Kharkiv were delighted to receive an audio Bible recently. ‘We’ll listen to the Bible as we work in our vegetable garden preparing for winter,’ they said.

It is common in villages across Ukraine to grow your own food, and summer and autumn are the busiest times. But in the villages of Bobrivka and Barak, near Kharkiv, farmers and growers face extra threats.

The whole area is now full of landmines and unexploded shells. Some 350 cows have escaped from their farm, but can’t be rounded up because of the landmines. So they are eating the crops that people are trying to grow to keep them alive over the winter.

And as they work on the land, they come under regular artillery attack and are frequently shelled.

Local chaplain Oleksandr had given a couple a Bible earlier in the war. ‘We read it a lot, and it has helped us to withstand recent trials,’ they said. But the audio Bible now means that they can listen to the word of God while growing their crops, in the most dangerous of conditions.

Oleksandr said that he hoped that gifts of Bibles and audio Bibles to these villages would help people who ‘feel frightened and abandoned’ to find hope.

Dave and Becky Waterman

Some weeks ago, on MAF Sunday, both churches were introduced to Dave and Becky Waterman by means of a video. They are our Link Missionaries. The latest newsletter on their website tells of this recent experience!

Major Surgery in Monrovia

'There are certain things you expect when moving to a developing nation. Frequent power and water outages (we've had our share of those in the last few months), feeling far from friends and family, dealing with tropical diseases like malaria and typhoid...

What you don't necessarily prepare for is waking up on a normal day and needing to rush to a mission hospital for major surgery.

The 2nd of June started like any other day. Our alarm sounded at 5:50am and we got up, Dave got changed for work and we sat down to breakfast. Suddenly, Dave felt a pain on the right hand side of his abdomen. Within half an hour it was excruciating, and we drove the mercifully short journey to ELWA hospital, on the other side of the compound we live on. He was diagnosed with acute appendicitis. Within an hour and a half he was in surgery, having his appendix removed.

The situation we found ourselves in was far from ideal, but we were amazed at the provision and care we received. From a friend who is a nurse at the hospital not resting until she'd called every surgeon to get one there, to a private room for Dave to recover in, to power which stayed on consistently for the whole duration of his stay, allowing air conditioning ... every detail worked out better than we could have hoped. God is good!

Dave is back at home now, and recovering from his experience! He'll have a good scar as a souvenir from his stay in hospital, and it'll be a few weeks until he's back up to full strength.'

Please continue to pray for them.

Thoughts from my Garden ...

My daughter from the Lake District has been staying, with her dog, which kept the deer away. As soon as she left, the deer returned! He had a quick feed of the beetroot and chard. Fortunately we woke up and he left over the small gate which opens onto the road! The garden now is a bit like Fort Knox, the small gate now has an extension - hopefully we have done enough to keep him out!

My vegetable garden is not very good this year, mostly because of the lack of rain. The chard will recover as it is a "pick and come again" plant, and the winter greens should give us a supply. The courgettes have produced enough fruit but the leaves are getting brown from the heat. When I see cabbage white butterflies, I throw water at them and they quickly disappear!

The wild blackberries are ripening well, I have started picking them to put in the freezer. At least there are plenty for me, the birds and anything else. I have had a dog who would carefully pick them to eat but the ponies prefer someone to pick and feed them. You have to watch out or you will find a pony helping themselves to the ones you have picked!

I shall be glad when it cools a little, but I do enjoy the early morning trips to Hordle Cliff beach for my daughter to swim. We were up at 5.30am this morning to catch the low tide; people were already in the water when we arrived! I only paddle although I am tempted to sit at the edge of the water. This morning, the moon was setting and the sun was not yet up; it was very pleasant.

Looking forward to rain!

The Yearly Miracle

The yearly miracle has taken place,
And I, again, a wondering witness.
It started with a small, flat seed
Which I just placed in soil –
In potting compost – some seven months ago.
Nothing else I did, but kept it watered,
Talked to it, and watched it grow
From tender two-leaved seedling
To tall and sturdy plant with stem as thick
As trusty walking stick,
With flowers insignificant but sweet,
Attractive to the busy insects' feet:
Later, bearing generous trusses
Of ripening fruit of several kilos weight,
And as we picked our first tomato, we agreed
A miracle indeed, from one small seed.

Children's Uniform and Clothes Swap in July

We were so pleased to support a Clothes Swap with 'Step Up Safe Space'. They have a Uniform Reuse Project and lots of Hordle Primary, Arnewood and Priestlands uniform was available. This was fairly well attended, but it would be so good to see more people coming along to the next one to run before the end of next term.

There will be many hardly used toys and clothes, ready for Christmas stockings, as well as uniform. Just bring any items, clean and ready to swap ... and take away what you want.

Swap it - don't Bin it!

Bring as little or as much as you want and get more of what you need. In this time of economy for everyone, this is an ideal solution. Be sure all items are checked thoroughly and clean - only good reusable ones are passed for swap. Swaps really replace jumble sales. This way come with something ... or nothing and pop in a donation instead if you can.

Watch out for the next

Swap 🐼 😊

REDUCE

REUSE

RECYCLE

Dear God ...

You give me many good things, I know that everything that is good comes from you.

Dear Carolyn,

Yes, I saw it was all good and that's the way I wanted it to be.

Dear God,

But it isn't - the world is not as you intended. There are the good things and the bad. Good and bad seem to get mixed up and sorting it out can be difficult. I want to do what's good but I don't always know what that is. I look at my motives, but there are many, and I can't see which are from you. If I worry about it over much I can't do anything, I'm too afraid of getting it wrong. It seems better just to do the best I can and let you sort it out.

Dear Carolyn,

Yes, gently follow my way and when you get it wrong, as you will, I am there. That's why my Son came to earth - so when you discover you've done wrong, you can turn around and have a new start - at living.

Carolyn Petts

We will miss the interesting articles and exciting pictures from our Primary Schools this month. They are, of course, on holiday as this LINK is prepared. We wish them all, staff and children, a happy time of rest and relaxation. We look forward to hearing from them again when they return, fully refreshed!

Open Your Eyes

difficulties to make me strong;

I asked for wisdom and God gave me

I asked for prosperity and God gave me

I asked for courage and God gave me

I asked for love and God gave me

I asked for favours and God gave me

Keep an eye out for the Asian hornet

The invasive Asian hornet is a serious threat to the UK's wildlife, especially our native honeybees. They impact the pollination of plants and crops. So far it is believed they are not present in the UK, but it is very likely we will find them arriving soon.

They have been spotted on the Channel Islands, and in 2016 in Tetbury, Gloucestershire a large nest was destroyed. It is vital for everyone to be on the lookout and report sightings straight away, they will be acted on.

Asian hornets are a serious threat to our honeybees.

Defra has produced a national pollinator strategy (2014) to highlight the threat Asian hornets pose to bees. European honeybees have no defensive strategies to fight back. At the Brockenhurst Eco Fair I talked with beekeepers who spoke of the danger these non-native invasive predators could be to the UK honey bee population. It is possible our coastal New Forest is where they could turn up and they urged me to:

- be able to differentiate the European Hornet from the Asian Hornet
- Load 'Asian Hornet Watch' App on my mobile phone, or report online. Any suspicion is worth reporting – we need to protect our wildlife.
- Keep vigilant when walking in the New Forest and especially if near any bee hives
- To share with others about this threat.

What does it look like?

European hornet (Vespa crabro)

- Larger than Asian hornets
- Head yellow from front and red from above
- Abdomen mostly pale yellow with black stripes
- Thorax and legs black/ reddish brown

The European Hornet is no problem to our bees and does not need reporting.

Asian hornet (Vespa velutina)

- Smaller than native hornets
- Orange head (from front)
- Abdomen almost entirely dark, with fine yellow stripes and a yellow or orange 4th segment near the base
- Black or brown thorax
- Legs with yellow tips

A gift from Glyn

After losing his wife nine years ago, local man Glyn left a gift in his Will to Oakhaven Hospice after experiencing first-hand how the hospice can help those who need care and support.

He became part of the Widowed Friendship Club, which is a self-help group of widows and widowers, and was also looked after by Oakhaven Care in the final stages of his own life. He was so thankful and appreciative of this support that he decided to leave a gift to the hospice so that others in the community who may find themselves in a similar position could benefit from Oakhaven and all that it has to offer.

We are able to care for one in four people thanks to people like Glyn leaving a gift in their Will.

Leaving a lasting legacy to Oakhaven in this way ensures we will be able to continue caring for those in our community when they need us most, helping us to make every moment matter.

Could you help us with a gift in your Will?

A pledge of any size really will make a difference to our future.

Visit oakhavenhospice.co.uk/legacy for more information.

We also offer a free and confidential online Will writing service in partnership with Guardian Angel.

The legacy of Glyn lives on through his gift to Oakhaven Hospice
